VOLUME 36, No. 50

Single Men In Draft Will Be Pooled

Enlistments To Cease And Drafts Sent To All Branches Of Service

Latest draft developments in California indicate that within 60 days all voluntary enlistment in the armed services will be halted, and pooling of all class A-1 men undertaken, so that married men may be deferred until the quota of single men has been entirely exhausted.

Modifying of the selective service policy in this manner will tend to reduce the possibility of married men being drafted by some boards while a surplus of single men exists at other boards, it is stated.

Curtailment of all voluntary enlistments will be necessary in order to make the plan workable, draft officials declare. Therefore men called up by the draft will supply the manpower for the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard, when the plan goes into effect. Those drafted will be placed in the branch of the service for which they are considered best adapted, and will have little or no opportunity to choose the division they prefer.

Further instructions on the pooling of men and the halting of enlistments is expected to be received within a few days by all draft boards, which have already had official instructions to be ready to supply men for all branches of the armed services within 60 days.

All 1-B men from this district have now been called up or reclassified. 1-BO and 4-ELS men who form the two divisions of conscientious objectors are now being reclassified into 1-AO, the conscientious objector who will serve with the Military on non-combat duty and 4-E, conscientious objectors opposed to all military service.

Only Sierra Madrean included with the group of selectees who will be inducted from the draft board of this area Friday, September 4, is James F. McLellan of 61 Suffolk avenue. Mr. McLellan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McLellan of 59 North Sunnyside avenue and was recently married to the former Irene Lloyd. He has been employed by an automobile parts company in Los Angeles.

Canvas Needed By Stretcher Unit Of Medical Corps

In an attempt to thoroughly equip all dressing stations with the necessary number of stretchers, Lt. Col. W. B. Heagerty, chief of the Emergency Medical Service is asking for the donation of canvas in pieces large enough to form stretcher covers. Used material will be acceptable if still strong, or new remnants of awning may be contributed. The material is vitally needed and all donations will be put to good use. The material is a scarce article in the stores due to demands of the Army.

Dr. Peterson Ready For Service With Army Air Corps

Dr. M. H. A. Peterson, prominent local physician, has volunteered for service with the medical corps attached to the Army Air Force, passed his physical examination and is now awaiting orders to report for active duty. However, he does not expect to be called before October.

For the duration Dr. Mohler J. Miller of Kansas will take over Dr. Peterson's practice. Dr. Miller is a graduate of the University of Kansas, and has had many years experience in the medical field.

May Change Hours At PJC, Wilson High

Sierra Madre students at Pasadena Junior College and Wilson Junior High School may have to change their time schedule when school opens September 14, as a proposal has been made that classes be held from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. instead of 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. as in former years. This schedule may be adopted to conform with transportation demands. While no changes in the schedules have been announced it appears probable they will be, officials announce.

Mother's Knowledge Of First Aid Saves Baby Son's Life

A near tragedy which almost cost the life of an 18-months old baby, was averted Saturday when Mrs. W. R. Dedrick of 734 Fairview avenue saved the life of her son Byron by applying her knowledge of first aid, after pulling the baby from the family swimming pool.

Slipping away from the family group, the toddler fell into the pool and was not missed until an older brother saw him floating in the water. Mrs. Dedrick jumped into the water, brought the baby out, applied artificial respiration, and had him breathing again before Joseph Swanson and Arthur Udell of the first aid squad arrived with the city rescuer. Further treatment was given by Dr. George Groth.

Ration Board Cuts Office Schedule

Will Hold Only One Session A Week—Cut In Sugar Allowance Predicted

Sierra Madre's sugar rationing board will hold only one session a week hereafter, from 2 until 5 p.m. each Wednesday afternoon. All applications for rationing books or additional rationing allowances must be made at that time, S. A. Cowart, board chairman announced yesterday.

Rationing stamp No. 8, which became negotiable August 23, will be good until October 31 and will entitle buyers to five pounds of sugar. However this allowance will be expected to cover the entire ten-week period.

Residents who have not as yet received their sugar books because they possessed an excessive supply when the books were first issued will be eligible for books entitling them to use of stamp No. 8, providing their supply was very near five pounds when Stamp No. 8 became valid, according to rationing officials. However when the books are issued the first seven stamps will be removed.

Paul d'Orr, state rationer, predicted this week that sugar allowances may be reduced by 60 percent next year because of Caribbean and Atlantic ship sinkings. Mr. d'Orr estimated that only about 38 percent of the sugar produced in the United States will be available for civilian consumption.

To Remember Sierra Madreans In Armed Forces At Xmas

Launching an early campaign to remember Sierra Madre men in the Army and Navy at Christmas the Kiwanis Club has commissioned Dr. Arthur O. Pritchard to prepare a complete file of all the men in Service for Uncle Sam, so that each may be sent gifts from the Club.

Dr. Pritchard is now working on the file and asks that every family with a man in service contact him either by post card or letter or telephone, giving complete name, present address and the service and division to which he is attached. This information should reach Dr. Pritchard without delay, so that there will be ample time for mail delivery to men at distant stations.

Dressing Stations Organized In The Canyon Area

Two Civilian Defense dressing stations have just been organized and staffed in the Canyon Park area. One will be set up at the swimming pool, with a team of six trained women. The other will be at the home of Mrs. Joseph P. Nash, 551 Alta Vista drive. It now has a staff of five trained women. These teams will combine to make up a home unit of the Emergency Medical Auxiliary Corps in the Canyon area, and will meet regularly for training under civilian defense regulations.

Registration For November Election Closes Sept. 29

Registration of voters for the November election has been resumed throughout Southern California, following the recent primary election. September 29 is the deadline, however. Sierra Madreans may register at the city hall.

Ask Blood Of 120 Sierra Madreans

Bank Coming Here On Third Visit As War Casualty Lists Start Mounting

United States fighting men now stationed on all continents and many islands of the world are suffering many injuries and to give them every chance to recover from the wounds of war the Red Cross is increasing its demand for blood donors.

So that Sierra Madre may have a part in this program the Blood Donor Service, under the local leadership of Dr. John L. Woehler, is asking for 120 donors when the Blood Bank makes its third visit here Friday, September 18.

The unit will go into action at the Woman's clubhouse at 8:40 a.m., and will finish with the last group of donors at 12 noon. Donors are reminded that they must be between the ages of 21 and 60 and women must weigh 120 pounds or more. Registration is now open and donors should place their names on the schedule and get their appointment time at Red Cross headquarters or with Mrs. R. E. Wright, who is in charge of registration.

City's Population Now Estimated At Over 5,000

According to estimated population figures released yesterday by the County Regional Planning Commission, based on the number of housing units, Sierra Madre's present population is 5170 as compared with 4581 in 1940.

Population of the Sierra Madre unincorporated area including Duarte which was 6303 in 1940 has now advanced to 7540 in the opinion of the Planning Commission.

Other figures released by the Commission for neighboring towns are Arcadia, 1940, 9122, now 12,109; Monrovia, 1940, 12,807; now 13,750.

Girls Organizing Army Corps Unit

Recruiting of girls from 9 to 12 years of age was begun this week by Elsa Jeanne Seifert, Ardis Jacobson and Elma Terhorst, who with Elsa Jeanne as leader are forming a young girl's army corps unit here.

This is the first junior unit patterned on military lines to be formed here, and members will be drilled and trained in first aid so that they will be of assistance in the handling of other youngsters should an emergency arise here.

Girls interested in joining the unit should contact Elsa Jeanne at her home, 229 North Hermosa avenue.

Mercury Dropped

First twings of autumn crispness came to Sierra Madre this week as the mercury shot down to a maximum of 70 degrees Monday. Generally warmer weather followed yesterday however, when the sun broke through the high fog, indicating that fall is not really here as yet. Temperatures for the week have been:

ORDER MAKES FOREST FIRE FIGHTER'S SERVICE IMPORTANT UNIT OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE

Men of the Forest Fire Fighters' Service are being advised by Arthur M. Udell, local chief, that James M. Landis, national director of OGD, has declared that the Forest Fire Fighters Service is one of the basic units of Civilian Defense and will serve as a part of the National facility security program. Stating that the organizational set up of the service will be comparable to the Civil Air Patrol, Mr. Landis has appointed David P. Goodwin, Assistant Chief of the Fire Patrol Division, U. S. Forest Service, national coordinator of the Forest Fire Fighters' Service.

State and local coordinators will be appointed and local working units will be organized in squads of 8 to 10, according to most recent information from Washington. Emblem of the Service will be a red pine tree on the white triangle and blue circle which forms the background for OGD insignia.

Friday night local members will again gather at the city hall and proceed to the Santa Anita Ranger Station for another class to be conducted by Keith Kaylor. Expressing appreciation to the men for their fine spirit of cooperation in helping to make the local unit a success, Arthur Udell stated yesterday, "I very much appreciate the splendid attendance and spirit of the men at the last meeting and hope that all those who were present will again attend and bring new members." Following each meeting the men enjoy short entertainment and refreshments.

Start Drive To Build Up Home Defense

Every Home Will Be Asked To Contribute Member To Organization

"Not one single service of Civilian Defense has sufficient people, some by at least a third and most by one half," declared Mayor Tom Schwartz, at a joint meeting between Civilian Defense Council chiefs and heads of other organizations Tuesday evening.

In an attempt to relieve the burden of civilian defense work now being carried by a very few volunteers, an active recruiting campaign will get under way here this month.

First step will be the sending of a letter to every home asking for volunteer workers in some branch of home defense work. Residents will be asked to choose the service in which they prefer to work and then follow through with the necessary training and drills.

Home defense units now greatly in need of additional members include the State Guard, in which Sierra Madre maintains a reserve unit; Forest Fire Fighters Service, air raid wardens, both men and women; emergency medical service, men and women; fire watchers, messengers, auxiliary police and auxiliary firemen.

Enrollment in any of these services is now open, and further information may be obtained at the city hall.

Women Enter The Forest Service

Well Known Sierra Madrean Among First To Fill Gaps Caused By War

Now they're calling women into the Forest Service. Enlistments and the draft have made deep inroads into the ranks of the Rangers and other personnel of the service and women are filling the gaps.

A well known Sierra Madrean—Laura Cadmus Edwards, is among the first dozen women to answer the call. She will do a 12-hour daily shift as a lookout in a tower away up in the wilderness on a peak just back of Sierra Madre. There she will divide responsibility with her husband, Archie Edwards, veteran of the forest, who will continue to fill out the other shift.

Mrs. Edwards has been a resident of Canyon Park for 25 years, latterly operating a real estate business which she has abandoned. She replaces James J. Stanchfield who has been transferred to the Santa Anita station as foreman of a forest tanker crew.

During her many years residence here Mrs. Edwards has been active in the civic, art and business life of the community. She is an honorary member of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, a charter member of the Sierra Madre Arts Guild, and is also well known for her newspaper work. Throughout Southern California she is known as a concert singer.

Most Stores Will Close On Labor Day

Nearly all business will be suspended here Monday in observance of Labor Day, while residents enjoy a final late summer vacation. Business office of the city hall, the Sierra Madre Savings Bank and the post office will be closed so that employees may enjoy the holidays. Drug stores, gas stations and a few other business places will be open as usual.

Elect Lange President Of Kiwanis

Guest Urges Club To Assume Wartime Leadership Of The Community

Harry Lange was elected president and R. C. Lewis, vice president of the Kiwanis Club at the annual election meeting of the club Tuesday. John Billheimer was named secretary, Arthur Morse, treasurer. The new board of directors will be composed of Mr. Lange, Mr. Lewis, Donald Damon, Clarence Huntsinger, Chas. Klunk, Bruce McGill, Dr. Raymond Simpson, Frank Spencer and Dr. John L. Woehler. These officers will assume their duties in January.

Guest speaker at this week's meeting was John Biggers of Pasadena, who in his talk on "Kiwanis and the National Emergency," outlined a Kiwanis program of wartime leadership, advocating that Kiwanians in their own communities lead the way in emergency recreation, promotion of political interest, salvage drives, rationing, dimouts, sustaining of public morale, war bond sales, and indicated that members could increase their service by giving rides to service men and saving rubber by pooling transportation wherever possible.

Kiwanians pledged to contribute to the Blood Bank this month will go in a group and include Carl Hansen, president; Harry Lange, F. H. Hartman, Gerald Smith, Donald Damon, Clarence Huntsinger, Dr. John Woehler, Bruce McGill, Dr. J. Stadden Miller, R. H. Pickett, P. R. Penn, R. A. Hawkins and Dan Ribb, who was guest of the club Tuesday and will become a member before the arrival of the Bank.

Delegates appointed to attend the California-Nevada Kiwanis convention in Los Angeles this month are President Hansen, President-elect Lange, and John Billheimer, with Mr. Klunk, Dr. Simpson and Mr. McGill named as alternates.

State Guardsmen Practice Throwing Of Hand Grenades

Clarence Schuerer proved to be the top hand grenade thrower of the Sierra Madre State Guard when the company met Sunday at the home of W. Jarvis Barlow, Jr., for limited maneuvers and a barbecue. Emile Smith placed second in the hand grenade match, and Otto Bailey, third. Two machine guns and riot guns were also taken apart and reassembled by men of the company as part of the days work-out.

Roy Davis barbecued pork and was assisted in preparing the meal by John Wysocki. During the recreation period which followed, croquet, tennis and table tennis were enjoyed by Guardsmen.

Family Scattered Well Over The Globe

The Russell Lovejoy family of Grand View avenue is scattered pretty well over the globe, letters and a cablegram received this week by Mrs. Helen Lovejoy disclosed. A cablegram followed by a letter advised of the arrival of George Russell Lovejoy somewhere in Great Britain. Next day came a letter from Russell Jr., evidently written on some barren island near the equator and probably in the Australian area. It announced that because of the difficulty in getting regular shaves he has grown a beard—as all the others in his Army outfit have done, but that, otherwise he is well. His last previous letter came from Australia.

Tree Climbing Dog Takes Joy Out Of Life For Cats

While no dearth of oddities has ever been noticed in Sierra Madre and Santa Anita Oaks, the newest exception to the general rule of things is a tree climbing dog named Oscar, who is making life something of a chore for neighborhood cats who had formerly believed that a tree meant safety.

Oscar, a two-year old black and white cocker spaniel owned by Jack Edwards of 1061 Fallen Leaf road, has gained no little fame in his own district since his penchant for tree climbing began to attract attention of neighbors. "It all began like this," said Jack in recounting the exploits of his pet in the NEWS office yesterday, "I was teasing him with a ball (he loves to play ball) by holding a ball in a tree, and to my amazement he shot right up the tree. He can now go up at least 20 feet and is really going after cats."

Jack declares that anyone wanting further proof of Oscar's exceptional talent, may call at his home for a personal demonstration.

Next Salvage Collection Is Tuesday

"Hang out your Salvage card Monday evening so that it will be in place early Tuesday when the Salvation Army will begin the regular monthly Salvage Collection here," John Froehlich, Salvage chairman, advised yesterday.

Because of the Labor Day holiday, the collection has been postponed one day, but the Salvation Army truck will leave the city hall promptly at 8 a.m. for complete coverage of the city.

Residents are reminded by Mr. Froehlich that all types of metal, except sheet metal, rubber and rags are needed for war production. For the present glass and papers will not be picked up here. The committee requests that the salvage card be displayed in a prominent place so that the truck driver will not overlook it and that, wherever possible, contribution be placed at the curb to speed up collections.

With production held up in some shipyards and various other war industries during this critical period due to a lack of steel the need for old metal is particularly urgent, the committee has been advised by the salvage division of the WPB.

Arts Guild Resumes Sessions Friday

After the August vacation, the Sierra Madre Arts Guild resumes its series of monthly meetings at the studio of Alfred J. Dewey, Friday evening when Mungo Park will speak on the "Malayan States."

Mr. Park came to Sierra Madre a year ago from India where he lived for many years. He has had 30 years close association with the Malayan States and India and is familiar with the problems of both regions.

Mr. Park is a mining engineer, and is the grandson of the noted explorer, Mungo Park, who at the beginning of the nineteenth century led an expedition into the Niger country of Africa. All Sierra Madreans are invited to the meeting.

Lee Shippey's "Great American Family" To Show At UCLA

Lee Shippey's "Great American Family" will come to Royce Hall on the UCLA campus for a four-day run September 9 to 12, in a new form with a prologue and three acts.

Ralph Freud, director of the UCLA drama department who appeared in the New York production of "Growing Pains," will play the lead, while Douglas Scott, motion picture actor, will take the role of Hank.

New York producers interested in seeing the play in its new form will be present to review it with the possibility of producing it on Broadway this winter.

School Rate Lowered Together With County And Flood Control District

The combined tax bill of Sierra Madreans—city, county, school and flood control, will call for approximately 24 cents less per $100 of assessed valuation than it did last year. The combined rate of $5.5371 was announced by the county supervisors yesterday after the school tax, last to be determined, had been set. The combined rate for the 1941-42 fiscal year in Sierra Madre was $5.7744.

Major saving to taxpayers came about through the reduction of $1.138 in the county rate. Another $.0735 came when the school tax was set at $2.0282, as against $2.1017 for the last fiscal year. Final reduction came in the flood control rate which was lowered from $.22 to $.17 because two flood control projects which had been planned will not be carried out until the war ends. The city rate was fixed some time ago at the old figure—$1.99.

Following is the table of the combined rate for the 1942-43 fiscal year as compared with that of 1942-42:

	1942-43	1941-42
County	$1.3489	$1.4627
City	$1.99	$1.99
School	$2.0282	$2.1017
Flood Control	$.17	$.22

Much of the tax reduction, excepting in the case of the lowering of the flood control rate, is due to the great increase in assessed valuations caused by the construction of big new defense industries and mammoth enlargement of existing ones. Growth of the industries brought many thousands of new families into Los Angeles county, higher wages and resulted in what approached a building boom.

Local Draft Board Able To Meet Calls

Clarifies Regulation Calling Exempted Men In War Industries

While draft boards in several surrounding districts have reported serious difficulty in filling their draft quotas, Board 191 which covers the Sierra Madre, Arcadia, Monrovia and Duarte area, is having no such difficulty according to Keith Beanson, secretary.

To date all quotas have been made up easily, he said, and unless they are increased greatly no shortage in men is anticipated from this area.

Clarifying the order cancelling all war production deferments issued Tuesday by Lt. Col. K. H. Leitch, state director of selective service, Mr. Beanson stated that men will not be withdrawn from war industries if six months or more will be required to train other men to replace them. Therefore there is indication that men functioning in highly trained capacities will be permitted to remain on their jobs for awhile.

All men seeking commissions are again reminded by draft officials that all temporary deferments have been cancelled and that they must secure such commissions before they are called for induction as no additional time will be allowed.

Financial Aid For Injured Civilian Defense Workers

Financial and medical aid for civilian defense workers injured during an official blackout is now assured, according to the State Council of Defense. In case of death, assistance in paying burial costs will also be forthcoming.

Amounts of payments for individual cases, eligibility for aid, and other phases of a broad-scope program are still in the process of being worked out. Money available is from the special fund created February 6, to be used until Congress enacts permanent legislation for civilian aid.

In California funds will be administered by the county welfare departments under instructions yet to be issued, but welfare directors are authorized to "act at once" should an emergency arise.

Racing Out At Santa Anita This Winter; Rose Bowl In Doubt

Saturday it looked as though Santa Anita race track might open for racing this season, Sunday it seemed almost sure to open, but Monday the Fourth Fighter Command said definitely that it won't open.

Dr. Charles H. Strub got the final answer Monday when he telephoned Gen. James W. Barnett under Gen. DeWitt's command and learned that the Army is taking over Santa Anita as soon as the Japanese have all been evacuated.

While the status of Santa Anita racing is now settled, that of the annual New Year's Day Rose Bowl football game is still uncertain, as no definite statement has as yet been issued by General DeWitt.

Bob Rigney Headed For Aerial Combat

Robert Rigney, formerly well known to patrons of the Standard Oil Service Station, writes interestingly to his mother of his life at Sheppard Field, Texas, the largest Air Base in the world. The food is excellent, the officers and men of a very fine class, and though the weather is hot, the barracks are air conditioned.

He has completed his basic training and is now taking the course of an aircraft technical specialist. On completion of this course in four months he will be sent to one of the larger aircraft plants to gain further technical knowledge, and will then be assigned to a combat squadron for active duty as a technical sergeant.

BEAUTY AND THE HOIST

A SLENDER Canadian girl manipulates the switches controlling a crane that hoists a gun barrel casting weighing a couple of tons. Everywhere in the Canadian munitions industry girls are performing similar tasks releasing men for military service. The 3.7 inch anti-aircraft gun for which this barrel is destined is the heaviest piece manufactured in Canada. Ranging from the smallest bullet to the largest bomb, from fuses to tanks, from safety pistols to field guns and depth charge throwers, the list of armaments coming off Canadian production lines reveals a growing diversity of industrial effort.

FAMED PLEDGE OF DOUGHBOY HERO ASKED MEMBERS OF NEW WIN THE WAR ORGANIZATION

Introduction of a new win-the-war plan to pledge thousands of Los Angeles city and county civilians to place war efforts ahead of personal ambitions and activities has been announced by the newly organized United Citizens for Victory.

Judge Pierson M. Hall and William Morris, Jr., are co-chairmen of the organization, which will hold a "Town Meeting" at 8 p.m., September 11, in Philharmonic Auditorium, Los Angeles, where the entire audience will be asked to take the following pledge:

"America must win this war. Therefore, I will work, I will save, I will sacrifice, I will endure, I will fight; cheerfully and to the utmost as if the outcome of the whole struggle depends on me alone."

This pledge was the sacred vow of a doughboy, who lost his life in the first world war, but who left these lines inscribed on a notebook as a precious memento for future generations.

There will be no admission charge to the auditorium, and no membership fee in the organization. All that is asked is that members take the pledge and live up to its significant content.

The executive committee includes men and women of every walk of life. Support has been given the move by leaders in the fields of women's clubs, C.I.O., A.F.L., churches, industry, business and public service.

The multitude which does not reduce itself to unity is confusion; the unity which does not depend upon the multitude, is tyranny.—Pascal.

SURE IT COUNTS

"What does my vote matter?" they asked, and so thousands of California voters stayed away from the polls in droves last week. But one vote does matter. One vote made California a part of the Union and paved the way for the West's great era of colonization and settlement. One vote elected Cromwell and sent Charles the First to the scaffold, broke the power of monarchy in England, and marked a milestone in the advance toward greater representative government. One vote in the electoral college elected a President of the United States in 1876. This nation has never known more fateful days than those it is now passing through; never has it more needed leaders and public officials of the highest calibre and statesmanship. Wars can be won on the battlefields, but they can be lost in the halls of Congress if what America is fighting for is not only the military defeat of the enemy, but the establishment of a more decent, orderly, and peaceful post-war world. It took centuries of bloodshed and struggle to win us representative vote; it will not take centuries to lose them if we fail to exercise that right.

REAL CELEBRATION

Not with marital music, proud banners and the tread of millions of marching feet will Labor this year celebrate its most cherished holiday. Instead, the nation's war workers will salute Labor Day with the far sweeter music of the riveter's clatter in the shipyards, the squeal of winches at dock-sides burdened with war goods for fighting fronts, the hum of turret lathes in a thousand plants. In foregoing their accustomed holiday, in making Labor Day a day of labor in earnest, millions of men and women war workers are paying the greater tribute to this democracy and the privileges it has bestowed into our war for survival can victory be assured. Only if that victory is won, will freedom remain in this land—the freedom of workers to organize, to enjoy collective bargaining rights, to better their status in life through individual initiative. By temporarily yielding up certain rights, labor and its co-partner, management, are uniting to win the victory that will save those rights from extinction. America salutes this Labor Day and her millions of men and women in shop, factory, mine and mill, working for victory and that peace to come.

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

TODAY they're calling it Morale. But it just means Faith. Even the Morale of the Japs and Nazis—the overwhelming Faith-Morale of the Russians. Faith. Fanatic Faith if you will—yet meaning something still super-ordinarily-human; stirring and magnificent wherever it appears, from whatever source; causing the mere spectator to feel envious and humble. What started us off on this was a headline, "What Faith?", which appeared in the magazine Time the other day, over an article about the churches here in America and their part in the War—Time called it "their shilly-shallying about the War." "In the eight months since Pearl Harbor," said Time, "only one major denomination (the United Lutheran Church) has placed itself unequivocally behind the U.S. war effort."

AND straight from that, there we were, reading again something in the concurrent Christian Century which gave point to what Time said. It was in a leading editorial, expressing sentiments The Christian Century had already repeatedly expressed. Thus: "We are condemned by our sins to fight wars, and in the process of fighting we further undermine the basis on which a just peace... is possible." To remedy which, the editorial goes on to say, we must seek "a process of international repentance which recognizes that we as well as our enemies have sinned." It even argues that Asiatics, meaning Japan, "must be allowed to develop the ideas and institutions of their own nationalisms—dangerous as they may be—..." (How about Foreign Missions?)

READING all this with that report of Ambassador Grew still tolling in our heart—like the bell of some vaster, more inclusive Church, old as the Earth and that wise—prophetic as the Thought Still Shaping the Earth. An idea possibly derived from John Fiske, the Harvard historian and philosopher, who shocked some good people of his day by saying that even religion is in process of evolution—just as our souls are and ever shall be. It was in a book of his called Through Nature to God; and by Nature he didn't mean just sniffing the asphodel, either; he meant the ruddy tooth and claw of all the early evolutionists—the same old blood, sweat, toil and tears we still have so richly with us in spite of our evolutionary Pilgrim's Progress. Nature, Fiske said, doesn't reverse itself. Its laws at the dawn of this planet's life are still its laws. God made them. And only through them and by them would man, at last, find God.

SO that there came up clear and complete in our memory also a scene we witnessed as a child. Four of us children—sister was the oldest, and she may have been ten—there in the "sitting-room" of our old home getting ready for bed; close to the stove, close to mother, who was snipping rags for a rug, her long bright shears gleaming, under the lamp. Father was away. When suddenly the door opened and a shaggy stranger stepped in—letting in, with him, it seemed, the chill and the darkness and the haunted mystery of the night outside. His face mostly hair, except for his beady eyes and the wide black hole that was his mouth. He looked at sister. Not a sound; not a movement. We were frozen. All except mother. In an instant she was up. She took the stranger by the arm and turned him around. She pushed him through the door.

ONLY in these later years we see the thing more clearly than we saw it then. Then, even with its quality of stark terror it struck us as nothing very extraordinary. Terrors of one sort or another were common enough—bad dreams, ghost stories, conscience. But deep in our budding minds was the inherited knowledge of a shielding love. Love! What are our pacifist theologians afraid of? It is Love, not Hate, that is now back of America's War Effort—the same sort of War now that mother faced that night—with those gleaming shears in her hand. Obeying to that one great Law of Nature that had its dawn and rise in the world with Love itself—Mother Love, the Love that means Sacrifice, the Love that is leading man up the Path toward God and the Kingdom.

WE hope that the mothers of those boys who are dying at the front don't read The Christian Century. It would be cruel, we think, to tell them that such had not died as a sacrifice for the salvation of the world but had merely been "condemned by their sins"—condemned to mount each his own Hill of the Cross—no better, perhaps, than the thief who did not repent.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

Women are just as good as men on most flying jobs—and sometimes better. That is the opinion of Major Earl Johnson, commanding officer of 2500 American women pilots. These women aviators, who deliver materials and planes and ferry passengers away from the combat coastal areas, comprise a tenth of the civil patrol enrollment. A booklet prepared by the War Department for American troops in England says this of British women in uniform: "British women have proved themselves. They have died at gun posts and as one has fallen another girl has stepped directly into the position and 'carried on.' There is not a single record of any British woman in uniform service failing in her duty under fire. When you see a girl in uniform with a bit of ribbon on her tunic, remember she didn't get it for knitting more socks than anyone else in Ipswich."

Men in America's armed forces are eating three times as much meat as they consumed in civilian life, according to the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers. If it weren't for the circumstance that most anyone can get a war job these days, the story of Miss Mary B. Leasure, of Ontario, California, should be a humdrum in way of inspiration for people inclined to get down in the dumps over lack of opportunity. She raises angieworms and has turned a two-acre plot into a profitable earthworm ranch, so to speak. She produces worms and eggs by the millions and ships them to customers in the U.S., Canada and a half a dozen other countries. The customers are orchardists and gardeners. They put the worms in the soil and around an anemic, droopy plant or tree, and the worms fiddle around in the ground, loosening and aerating it about the roots—and the plant perks up and grows like sixty. Miss Leasure's Yankee enterprise might be war remembering, just in case hard times come again. We've had tin plate kings and oil kings and steel kings. Now California comes up with an angieworm queen... There's always something!

Before launching into a refrain of the market basket blues over the failure of partial price control to block the march of HCL, shoppers are anxiously awaiting positive remedies that will extend those ceilings to cover the prices and union wages that are still sending living costs up. We have, fortunately, not yet reached the terrific peak to which prices soared in 1920, when housewives were paying 27 cents a pound for sugar, 76 cents a pound for butter, 92 cents a dozen for eggs.

Never again, we suspect, will America be lulled to sleep by fictitious tales of her enemies' weaknesses. Nine months ago our unpreparedness was partly the product of a civilized, peace-loving policy, squandered on aggressor powers who wanted war. Partly, it was the product of over-confidence. Accepted at face value were dozens of myths about the woeful inferiority of the Japanese—that they couldn't wage war both in the Pacific and China; that their aviators were third rate because, as infants, they were carried on their mother's backs, thus hurting their sense of balance; that they couldn't produce war-worthy planes; that, anyway, the eyes of Japanese fliers, gunners and soldiers, were bad, thus making them inconsequential foes. We were taken in once, but if Japan gained any satisfaction from this it was short-lived. In the blazing battles of the Coral Sea, of Midway, and of the Solomons, Japan has felt the fury of a wide-awake, wrathful, fighting America.

Keep getting in the scrap! The war isn't over. The War Production Board wants your private collection drive to continue. Old flat irons, broken-down lawn mowers, all scrap metals have a war duty to fill—now!

There is no encouragement to complacency in Donald Nelson's latest report to the nation. Though total war production in July was three and a half times greater than immediately before Pearl Harbor, the output of war planes fell below expectations and so to an even greater extent, did the production of certain types of naval ships. The time has now come, warned the nation's production chief, when we must have increased planning and intensified effort to eliminate waste, and gain the very utmost use from our vital war materials. Nowhere is there more urgent need for such conservation than in the field of motor transportation.

Vichy protests the raid of American bombers on Axis-held Rouen, thus establishing a new high in futility. We can only conclude Vichy likes to hear itself talk, perhaps just to prove it's alive and not a ghost.

"PAGING ALL WHISTLERS"

What, pray, has become of the whistlers, they don't do their stuff any more; no reason why folks should stop whistling because we're again in a war. This pastime has long been a custom, indulged in at work and at play, and always with this implication the whistler was mentally gay. One can't be downhearted and whistle, believe it or not but it's true, an especially good lifter-upper when feeling a little bit blue. There's a scad of new songs being written, the kind that most whistlers like, so what in the heck is the matter, it can't be they're out on a strike. Why, even the kids seem indifferent, indeed this is not a good sign, their silence might well make one wonder if really we're on the decline. Remember when I was a youngster and happened to be out at night, 'twas only a good lusty whistle that saved me from dying of fright. This plea we now make to all whistlers, give out as you ne'er did before, it's one way to make each day brighter, and help us in winning the war.

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

Partisanship is out for the duration—if not with the politicians, at least with the great majority of the voters!

If political leaders still have any lingering doubts on that score, they should take a second look at the returns from California's primary election.

The most dramatic demonstration that the voters are thinking in terms of men and issues, rather than in terms of party affiliations, was the tremendous vote which Attorney General Earl Warren polled for Governor on the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Warren, while he ran as a non-partisan, in keeping with the times, is a registered Republican; yet he came so close to defeating Governor Olson for the latter's own party nomination that the Governor hasn't yet recovered from the shock. And in total popular vote, Mr. Warren, who put winning the war first, and politics second, bested Olson by such a wide margin that the primary results clearly indicate a Warren victory at the general election in November.

In this instance, Democratic voters, aroused by the seriousness of the war situation, and the need for able leadership, crossed party lines to vote in great number for a Republican. In other instances, however, at the same election, Republican voters returned the compliment and voted in overwhelming number for Democrats.

Several outstanding Democrats polled almost as big a Republican vote proportionately as Republican Warren polled in the Democratic party—and the tabulations, if studied carefully, indicate that, by and large, the voters voted for men whom they believed most capable of wartime leadership, regardless of their party affiliations.

Equally convincing evidence that "politics as usual" has been kicked downstairs by the voters was piled up in the various legislative contests throughout the State. Democratic legislators who had stood out against vacillating war policies and spendthrift practices of the Olson administration were given smashing re-election majorities by the same voters who were piling up a big lead for Republican Earl Warren in the Governorship contest. And Republican legislators, who had opposed Governor Olson's political handling of the State Guard and Civilian Defense, were returned to office with just as good majorities as their Democratic allies in the legislative bloc.

All in all, it was a very revealing election. It indicated clearly that Mr. and Mrs. Average Voter have packed their party labels away in moth balls until America has won its war against the Axis. That, we believe, is a healthy sign of a healthy democracy.

AIR RAID BULLETIN EXPLAINS NEW METHOD OF COMBATTING JAP INCENDIARY BOMBS

Latest and most improved method of combatting incendiary bombs is explained in a bulletin issued yesterday for the information of Sierra Madreans by Chief Air Raid Warden Bruce McGill. The new method has been adopted by civilian defense organizations and fire department officials throughout the country, though it is directly contrary to that originally recommended. The bulletin follows:

SIERRA MADRE DEFENSE COUNCIL BULLETIN No. 2

Use a direct heavy stream of water on incendiary bombs. Do not spray them. Do not wait for 60 seconds, but start as soon as possible to hit the bomb with water.

This complete reversal of rules is the result of England's experience and study. The reason for the radical change in rules is that in case of an air attack it is quite probable that you will be hit by more than one bomb, and quite obviously, if you spent from 10 to 15 minutes controlling the first bomb, the second bomb would burn your house down while you were still spraying the first one.

The direct stream of water will explode the bomb, scatter it and start a number of fires which you should be able to put out by using your same direct stream of water.

By eliminating the first bomb in a couple of minutes, you are then ready to go after the second or third bomb; if, as, and when they land.

If there is no water available, then as a last resort, use sand or dirt.

Personally, if any bombs drop where I am, I intend to shovel them into a large bucket of water which will extinguish them at once.

BRUCE MCGILL
Chief Air Raid Warden.

Our Job Is to Save Dollars
Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day

Side Glances and Soliloquies

by Libby Trimble

There is more than one way for women to win friends and influence people and one of the surest methods is to join the "Button Brigade," an organization which is under the supervision of Mrs. George Roos of San Francisco. A visit of this Brigade to an Army camp is always heralded with delight by the Johnny Doughboys. The women travel in station wagons, equipped with electric sewing machines, pressing irons, cutting boards and the like, and spend their time in camp shortening sleeves, fitting blouses, sewing on buttons and insignia, and in general improving the appearance of the Army. Such fine treatment may induce neglected husbands to enlist.

Romantic Byron Hopper says he'd like very much to drive to Las Vegas to get married but the scarcity of tires is holding him back. That and the fact that he hasn't yet persuaded any girl to go with him.

It seems odd that the tire rationing board should be moved to Monrovia considering the fact that it isn't exactly the easiest thing in the world to get to Monrovia from Sierra Madre without using a bit of the precious rubber... unless one does a considerable amount of trolley riding.

Haven't seen Bill Burke lately but did see his wife, Dotty walking along the street proudly displaying a rubber garden hose which she claimed was the last in town. Hope she treats it well.

Well drilled in the proper social procedure is one of our very well-known women who last week told a good story on herself. She and her next door neighbor were quarreling about some really insignificant matter and before the woman would say anything unkind she dragged her neighbor back over to her own lawn because etiquette forbids fighting with anyone who is a guest in your home. (Must be why Germany favors invasion).

Astronomers on Mt. Wilson should be more than happy with the success of the dimout. Now they won't be bothered by the glow in the sky caused by valley lights and may star-gaze with greater ease.

Dr. Miller Will Head Decontamination Station Here

Dr. W. B. Heagerty, chief of Emergency Medical Service, has appointed Dr. J. Stadden Miller, dental surgeon, professional supervisor of the gas decontamination station for the Sierra Madre civilian defense area.

Dr. Miller is making a survey of the shower room in the Congregational Church with a view of having light movable screens made, so as to decontaminate both sexes, as occasion arises, with one team, and so conserve the personnel. He will organize and arrange for special instruction and training in the next week or two. The Office of Civilian Defense has furnished some equipment, but more has to be obtained before the station can properly function.

Police Chief To Issue Permits For Those Residing In Sierra Madre

In accordance with provisions of a recent order from the War-time Civil Control Administration extending certain temporary exemptions for alien travel limitations in Military Area No. 1, of which Sierra Madre is a part, Mayor Tom Schwartz has nominated Chief of Police Gordon McMillan' alien permit officer for Sierra Madre, and has forwarded his name to Lt. General John L. DeWitt for approval.

The new order from General DeWitt governing enemy alien travel was issued August 19, and will permit the freer movement of aliens on specific business. Permits for travel outside the five mile radius from the aliens home will be issued for official business visits to courts, state, county or federal offices, emergency trips necessitated by death or serious illness of near relatives or dependents; visits to relatives in detention or internment camps, to those confined in hospitals or similar institutes, and on other approved business.

Before an alien may take advantage of the order he must have a written permit. Such permits to be issued here by McMillan, will be issued only after each case has been investigated and in many instances will be limited to not more than one trip each month.

HOW DO YOU MAKE MEAT MUFFINS?

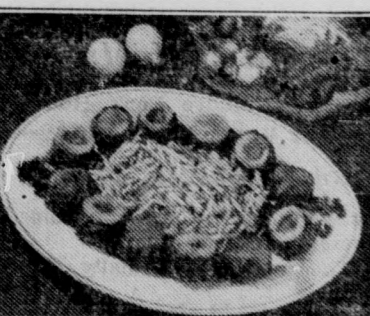

The Ingredients

Here's something everyone will like. These meat muffins need no watching, no turning—just put them in the oven and forget about them until it's time for them to be done.

Combine 1½ pounds ground beef, 3 tablespoons finely chopped onion, ¼ cup horseradish, 2 eggs, ¾ cup cracker crumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup tomato catsup.

Line the greased muffin pans with onion rings, pimientos cut as stars or other designs. Pack the mixture in the pans leaving about ½ inch space on top of each muffin so the drippings will not run over the pan as the muffins cook.

The Finished Muffins

Bake in a 350° F. oven for 45 minutes. Turn out the muffins on a platter and serve around Julianne potatoes. A relish tray of radish roses, celery curls, and chopped sweet pickles is a good accompaniment.

Latest styles in wedding invitations and announcements—printed or engraved—are inexpensive at THE NEWS office.

One rumor you can spread

Most rumors are bad business but here's one you can spread because it's true: It is not safe to keep valuables in your home. Most people are aware of that fact, but many fail to do anything about it until too late. It will take little time and effort to gather your private papers and other valuables and bring them here for storage in a safe deposit box. The cost is very nominal.

Quick, call the AUXILIARY FIREMEN!

No branch of civilian defense is more important than that which has the job of fighting serious fires which might result from bombing attacks by the enemy. The men who volunteered to be your Auxiliary Firemen wanted to be in the "thick" of things. They had to be strong, courageous and with lots of endurance. They were required to spend many hours practicing with hose and ladder...then many more hours drilling. These "armband firemen" are still at it and will be...until the war is won.

FUNDS FOR FIGHTERS

It takes many hands, much material to build a warplane, and many warplanes, as well as tanks, ships and guns, are needed to whip the Jap.

To illustrate one phase of the Nation's military production program, an interesting exhibit is now on display at the Sierra Madre Savings Bank. It presents a graphic picture of the production line of the famous "Lightning" P-38, world's fastest military airplane, at the huge Lockheed Aircraft Corp., in Burbank. It contains a scale model of this revolutionary airplane, together with photos of some of the manufacturing processes of the plant.

Editor, Sierra Madre News,

Unit 297, American Legion Auxiliary, wishes to express its deep appreciation of your kindness throughout the past year. Thank you very much for the liberal space devoted to the A.L.A. column. The Sierra Madre News is of great assistance to this Unit in carrying on its patriotic work. We hope for a continuance of this pleasant relationship during the coming year.

What They Say ---

Prof. R. L. Adams, Giannini Foundation economist, Univ. of Calif.—"The farmer's labor troubles are just beginning in California. More than 100,000 seasonal workers monthly will be needed from now until December, with the peak load in October."

Martin Arrouge, Sun Valley ski instructor, on signing agreement disclaiming any share in community property of his rich bride, actress Norma Shearer—"I don't want any of her money, but I have that, and it makes me the richest man in the world."

Russell Burns, San Francisco sportsman—"One of the truest statements ever made is, 'You can't cheat an honest man.' I've made a study of the operation of confidence games and discovered that unless the victim himself has a streak of larceny, he can't be taken."

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

A recent ruling of the firemen's organization calls for the men to appear for drill dressed in work clothes. Our distinguished secretary, who is gradually learning how to float on water, either wanted to be different or balked at the idea and showed up dressed in the usual white shirt and black tie. This resulted in an evening of turmoil that was headed for a dull one. When chided and fined about his rigging, Joe was unable to take it and nearly reached the stage of explosion.

The firemen's 4th of July picnic must have been very pleasing to the men this year. They have decided to hold another on Labor Day at the same place—at the Heasley ranch. It is hoped that unless some training is done in the meantime, no member shall attempt to ride a horse over the grounds.

The trailers from the Canyon shed were taken out for a run Friday. Because these trailers can be drawn by hand, they are a great protection to the Canyon district. Loaded with standard hose they can be placed at a fire plug with but little effort by a few men.

Political Parade

By CLEM WHITAKER

The dim-out in politics occasioned by the war has all but obscured the fact that there are 18 measures scheduled to go before the people at the General Election—14 constitutional amendments proposed by the Legislature, three initiative acts and one referendum against legislative enactment.

Only two of the proposals—labor's referendum against the bill to ban secondary boycotts, and the State Income Tax repealer—have received any particular public attention to date, but there are several other measures which, in ordinary times, would kick up quite a fuss.

Here, in thumb-nail sketch, and in the order in which they will appear on the ballot, are the propositions you will be asked to pass upon when The People's Legislature is convened at the polls in November:

1—Act prohibiting "hot cargo" practices and secondary boycotts. Farmers and business groups, generally, ask a "yes" vote; labor, a "no" vote.

2—Act providing for annual (instead of biennial) legislative sessions. The sessions, however, would be restricted to 60 days each.

3—Basic science medical act; proposed by doctors; opposed by chiropractors and some other groups.

4—Repeal of State Income Tax; proposed by labor and business; opposed by public employee groups.

5—Acts increasing pay of legislators from $100 to $200 per month.

6—Act providing for reorganization of State Board of Forestry.

7—Amendment drawn by State Insurance Commissioner, designed to correct inequalities in State insurance taxes, and to stabilize receipts during periods of normal business and depression.

8—Measure to freeze funds of State Fish and Game Commission for use of that Commission only.

9—Act to permit Legislature to reduce or increase salaries of State's constitutional officers; they are now "frozen" in Constitution.

10—Controversial proposal regarding reorganization of building and loan companies.

11—Act to permit 15-round championship boxing matches.

12—Act authorizing school districts to own stock in mutual water companies.

13—Act adding one new member to the State Board of Equalization, creating new district in Southern California.

14—Measure fixing interest rates on court judgments.

15—Act amending court jurisdiction and procedure.

16—Amendment broadening powers of administrative bodies and restricting judicial reviews.

17—Act making State Treasurer trustee of additional State funds.

18—Act creating a new legislative reapportionment commission, composed of elected State officials.

School Plans For Year Completed

Children To Be Impressed With Fact Nation Is At War— Teachers Assigned

When school opens here September 14, youngsters will have the benefit of a full time librarian in charge of the school's fine library as Mrs. Julia Percy, new member of the school staff, is outlining a complete library program arranged to meet the library needs of the students.

Miss Florence Lusted who in former years divided her time between the duties of art instructor and librarian will follow an uninterrupted art schedule.

For the first time boys physical education and industrial arts in the upper grades will be under the direction of one teacher, Hilard Barnard, who will take the place of Arthur Elliot, now serving with the Army.

Newest vacancy on the teaching staff was created last week when Miss Jane Hanks resigned to take a full time music position with the Alhambra high schools. While no one has been appointed as yet to fill her place as 8th grade and music teacher on the school staff, Mr. Smith says that there will be little difficulty in securing another teacher before school opens.

Replacing Mrs. Eleanor Patterson as cafeteria manager, Mrs. Florence Ruechell will come from Monrovia to take over this work, but no change in the general policy of the cafeteria is anticipated, according to Mr. Smith.

Entering into the program of America at war children will again be encouraged to assist with salvage work and regular purchase of War Stamps which will be available at school. War time defense and safety drills are on the schedule but have not been worked out as yet, he said.

School will be open for registration of new students during the week of September 7 and all students entering for the first time are requested to complete their registration then so that the school opening will not be complicated by this work also.

Another Street May Be Improved Now

Grading of East Highland avenue preparatory to resurfacing will be completed within a few days according to street superintendent Marion L. Hays, but oiling may be delayed for a short time as property owners on East Laurel avenue are expected to request a similar improvement, and in that event oiling of both streets would be undertaken at the same time.

Property owners on East Highland avenue have already deposited $115.50 to pay for oil to be used on their street, and those on East Laurel avenue will follow the same procedure before the work is started. Labor expense will be born by the city.

It's common sense to be thrifty. If you save you are thrifty. War Bonds help you to save and help to save America. Buy your ten percent every pay day.

As It Appears To me

¶ Through four years struggle on the NEWS and scattered association with people on other papers I had come to the conclusion that people who work on newspapers certainly had learned how to "take it" and was even feeling a slight pride in their hardihood until today when the entire illusion was shattered by the editor.

¶ On many occasions I have seen him disturbed—sometimes even quite irate—but never before in a state bordering on despair. It all happened because some of our young men about town have become completely converted to the thought that change is good for the morale and have gone in for changing the color of their hair with somewhat weird results.

¶ Time was when boys took great glee in making smart cracks about girls who were successively titian, blond, or raven, as the spirit—or the glamour magazine, moved them. Not so today, for they have definitely accepted the idea as good and are putting it on their program. But the editor didn't know about it!

¶ So—today down the street came brown-eyed, brown haired, handsome Arnold Brown with a flaming shock which had everybody looking twice, or three times, to be sure of his identity. Hope I'm not mistaken.

¶ Libby said something to me. I said something to Libby (even newspaper people do, you know, within their own closed circle). The editor said "What?" And so we simply said, "Why today Arnold Brown has red hair." The masculine sun went into immediate eclipse and over the editor's face spread a look of bleak despair which would have made even Arnold and Jack Chunn, who became a blond a while back, feeling that they had let the stronger sex down. Too, too bad that almost the one remaining pride of the mature generation in young masculinity has to be so heartlessly shattered... Even I, who have no apprehension over the psychological state which fosters such ideas, find the result somewhat questionable.

¶ Have you been in to the Red Cross this week? If not this might be a good time to find out some of the things the local chapter is doing by a personal visit. Headquarters are particularly hospitable now because of the recent redecoration and thorough cleaning. Also you may get a new and interesting slant on some of the activities into which you might enter.

¶ From New Caladonia comes a letter from Edward LaLone to his brother Fred, telling of the country and inhabitants including huge spiders and millions of mosquitos, with the announcement that it is a great day when letters arrive from home—this last just as a reminder. And while on this subject, remember that Dr. Arthur Pritchard is preparing a complete file of the names, units and service branch of all Sierra Madre men, so that they will be remembered with something besides words at holiday time. It would be sad indeed if all of us did not help Dr. Pritchard and the Kiwanians to carry through this work so that no names are missed.

Do you have some one in the service? If so send the information to Dr. Pritchard at 121 E. Alegria avenue at once. Your service man will appreciate it.

—Margaret Eliason.

City Buys Motors; To Pave Highland

The city council last night approved the purchase of a new Ford V8 2-door sedan costing $141.71, and a used pickup truck to cost $371 for the water department.

Responding to a letter from the Kiwanis Club the council voted to forward a letter to state rationer Paul d'Orr, protesting the removal of the tire rationing board to Monrovia.

Announcing that funds for material with which to resurface E. Highland avenue are now on deposit, council ordered that the work was to proceed.

Former Well Known Resident Dies

Older residents of Sierra Madre learned with regret last week of the death in Los Angeles of M. Herber Bridle, a former well known resident here who was active in the community's life in the period between about 1906 and 1912. He was a real estate dealer and subdivided several tracts in the East Sierra Madre blvd. district. He was the moving spirit in the organization of Sierra Madre's Masonic lodge and became second Master of the lodge, serving two terms in this capacity. He moved to Los Angeles in 1912 and was about 80 years old. He had been in ill health for the last couple of years and died August 24.

Local Priest Assigned To Alabama

Assigned to take charge of the Parish of the City of St. Jude at Montgomery, Ala., Rev. Father Vincent Ehlinger, C.P., left the Passionist Monastery yesterday morning, traveling by way of San Francisco, Chicago and Indianapolis.

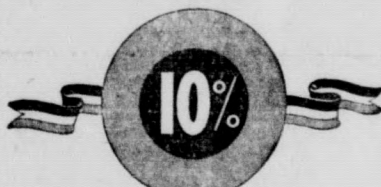

For several months Father Vincent has been resting at the Monastery, hoping to be able to return to his work as chaplain with the United States Army. His new parish is entirely Negro, and is considered one of the most modern projects for the advancement and education of the race.

The City of St. Jude comprises a 40-acre plot in the city of Montgomery, and includes besides the church, a school and dispensary under the direction of the Sisters of the Order of the Holy Family of Nazareth. Recently 10 acres of the city was leased to the federal government for a Negro park and playground, which is the first in the history of Alabama.

The parish serves hundreds of extremely poor Negro share croppers and their families, and inasmuch as Father Vincent's army service has included work with an entire Negro regiment, he is considered well qualified to administer the program of the city.

Sale Of Old Adobe Will Not Affect The Arts Guild

Lawrence Suman, successful commercial artist and resident of this city, has purchased the old adobe building on East Montecito avenue, occupied as a studio by Alfred J. Dewey, but the change in ownership will not effect the Sierra Madre Arts Guild nor Alfred Dewey's studio, he said. According to Mr. Suman he purchased the property only as an investment. The adobe is one of the oldest buildings in the city and was formerly part of the Fannie Hawks estate, having been built for a lemon packing plant. A frame annex also used by Mr. Dewey and the Arts Guild and another frame cottage occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kreuscher was included in the sale.
